Tudor Watch Service in {{mpg_city}}

WeFixAnyWatch offers professional Tudor watch services near {{mpg_city}}, conducted by experts equipped with the knowledge and tools to repair your watch meticulously, ensuring no damage occurs. With over 30 years of industry experience, your Tudor is in capable hands.

Our Tudor watch service in {{mpg_city}} commences with the meticulous disassembly of the watch movement. Each component undergoes a tailored cleaning process suitable for your specific watch model. A watch repairer meticulously inspects your wristwatch for issues and replaces any necessary components. Throughout the service, oils are added to the watch movement to minimize wear and tear due to friction. Subsequently, your Tudor undergoes calibration and performance testing.

The case and bracelet of your Tudor receive careful cleaning using specialized equipment to eliminate marks that diminish the watch's appearance. Pressure testing and resealing of your wristwatch follow to prevent the accumulation of dirt and water. Moreover, every successful Tudor service in London includes a warranty on replaced parts, offering additional reassurance that the service has been executed to an exceptional standard.

THE HISTORY OF TUDOR WATCHES

Tudor was founded in 1926 by Hans Wilsdorf, the founder of Rolex, in Geneva, Switzerland. The company was created as a more affordable and attainable brand compared to the premium Rolex watches. While Rolex focused on luxury and prestige, Tudor provided quality timepieces with in-house movements at a lower price point.
